Expanded Titles and Descriptions

July 1. Thomas Jefferson did a controversial thing. He cut and pasted selections from the four Gospels of the King James Bible in order to create a chronological narrative of "The Life and Morals of Jesus of Nazareth," known today as the Jefferson Bible. He excluded everything he disagreed with, including the virgin birth, miracles, and the resurrection.

July 8. Myrna Steele will play her harp and discuss how the harp is used in healing therapy. She will also give us a brief history of the harp and tell us of the many kinds of harps.

July 15. The Rev. John Mark Hild, Minister of the Metropolitan Community Church of Pueblo, will talk about intolerance, and how it effects others and you! Can we do anything about it?

July 22. Ib draws ideas from Touchstones, a monthly journal of the Mountain Desert District. This month we are using a sermon by Rev. Kaaren Anderson who points out that though transcendence has religious overtones it has a universality that transcends religion.

July 29. Poetry Sunday Bring your original or favorite poetry to share with the congregation.
